The United Illuminating Co., the city of West Haven and several partners played host to a group of site selectors from across the country during a two-day "familiarization tour" intended to showcase sites in West Haven that are poised for development.

Site selectors are location scouts for companies.

The group visited the area Tuesday and Wednesday, traveling to various sites. A helicopter tour Wednesday was provided by Sikorsky Aircraft Corp., one of several sponsors of the event.

According to event organizers, the site selectors represent national real estate firms that specialize in corporate relocation services and project expansions for multiple clients. Those clients include small, mid-sized and Fortune 500 companies in the U.S. and abroad.
